They use their skill to to create modern style jewelry with craftsmanship that has been passed down for generations.

As artisan businesses become more self-sufficient, new groups are taken on for greater impact.

IMPACT

SUSTAINABLE JOBS

Continued support is the key to helping them become independent and not worry about the next meal or how they are going to buy school supplies.

NO CHILD LABOR

The artisans receive fair trade wages which now allows them to support their families and send their children to school. Their next step is to be able to provide adequate medical care for their families.

EMPOWERMENT

We support mostly women artisans who benefit from the fact that they can work from home and maintain their responsibilities for children and their household. Making health and education a priority.
